THE GAZETTE AND DEMOCRAT. We are in receipt of the first No. of a paper with the above title, published at Lancaster, Fairfield County, Ohio, by Scott & Sons. Ever since the organization of the Republican party, there has been in that strong-hold of Democracy a sad division among those opposed to the dominant party. The old "Lancaster Gazette" never could give up its traditional belief in the Whig party. For the time being, it veered off into Americanism, and while ostensibly opposing both the Democratic and Republican parties, it in fact, although not perhaps intending it, aided in the success of the Democrats. Another paper was started there called the "American and Democrat," which supported the Republican organization, but from the incessant warfare between it and the Gazette, damaged, rather than advanced the cause which it espoused.

In this state of things, the Democratic party has steadily gained in that county, until its majority now reaches nearly two thousand. To remedy the evil, the proprietors of the new paper bought out both of those named, and have commenced in their stead the "Gazette and Democrat;" It is a fair sized paper, appears to be conducted with ability and judgment, and is soundly and distinctively Republican in politics .-We heartily wish the publishers success who control the organization of the in their undertaking, and believe it will Democratic party. Under these circumstances, the Senators and Representatives of Alabama and Mississippi have recently held a conference, and a majority of them recommend the postponement of the convention until after the Presidential election. But as the Representatives were not unanimous. it was agreed to refer the matter to the Governors of those states, and if they thought it best to hold such a convention in June, it is to be held notwithstanding. But the general sentiment among the conspirators seems to be that there is still a possibility of electing the Democratic candidate to the Presidency, and if so, the Union may stand out his working with them to effect their trea-
